

their management is much damage, adding that compliance.

Man allegedly kills son in Delta, police launch manhunt

A MAN identified simply as Aiseleto has allegedly stabbed his 23-year-old son, Miracle, to death in Osubi community, Okpe Local Council of Delta State. The suspect, who allegedly lured the victim into a nearby bush and stabbed him several times with a dagger before fleeing the community.

Sources said the incident occurred on Sunday following a domestic dispute after the deceased reportedly rented a separate apartment for his father's wife and himself in an effort to foster peace in the household. The move was said to have

The wounded victim reportedly struggled from the bush to the roadside, where passersby rushed him to a nearby hospital. He later died after narrating how his father allegedly tricked him into the bush and attacked him.

The suspect was also reported to have called other relatives after the incident, threatening to kill his wife and stepdaughter for leaving the marital home and ending the marriage.

The Police Public Relations Officer of the Delta State Command, SP Bright Edafe, confirmed the incident, stating that the suspect is currently at large and efforts are underway to apprehend him.