Adamawa State Governor, Ahmadu Umaru Fintiri

Governor Ahmadu Umaru Fintiri of Adamawa State has condemned the recent attacks on communities in Madagali and Hong local government councils of the state, describing them as cowardly acts of terrorism that will not be tolerated.

In a statement issued to journalists in the state on Wednesday by his chief press secretary, Humwashi Wonosikou, Governor Fintiri warned those responsible to immediately desist from further violence or face decisive consequences.

“We will not allow terrorists to undermine the peace and stability we have worked hard to restore. Those behind these senseless acts must stop now or face the full weight of our collective resolve,” he declared.

The governor reassured residents of the state government’s unwavering commitment to defeating terrorism and safeguarding lives and property. He emphasised that the administration has successfully confronted similar security challenges in the past and remains determined to do so again.
