Anti-robbery operatives of the Akwa Ibom State Police Command have arrested a prime suspect in the murder of a commercial motorcyclist, who was attacked and brutally murdered with his motorcycle seized by the armed hoodlums.

The police spokesman, DSP Timfon John, who disclosed this to journalists on Saturday, described the feat as a major breakthrough recorded by the Police in recent times.

She stated that the achievement followed a painstaking investigation of a suspected armed robbery and murder case involving the disappearance and killing of a motorcyclist in Etim Ekpo local government area of the state.

She recalled that the command had in November 2025, "received an information that an unidentified commercial motorcyclist was cornered at Ikot Esop Village, robbed of his motorcycle, and subsequently went missing."

According to her, following the report, an investigative machinery was immediately activated to unravel the circumstances surrounding the incident.
