Police have rescued the kidnapped sister of the 2027 governorship aspirant of the All Progressives Congress (APC), Chief Adebayo Adelabu, and her twin sons in Ibadan, Oyo State, on Saturday.

The victims, Mrs. Olaide Busayo Adegoke John-Paul and her twin sons, Peter and Paul, were abducted at the Elewura area, Challenge, Ibadan, in Oyo State on Wednesday.

John Paul and her children were abducted while they were driving to school in a Sonata, a KIA product car.

The gunmen threatened to gun her down if she failed to surrender herself and her twin sons.

She was later whisked away to an unknown destination.

The Police later launched a manhunt for them, which eventually resulted in the rescue of the victims.

Their release has been confirmed by the Police Public Relations Officer, DSP Ayanlade Olayinka, in a telephone chat with our correspondent.

According to him, "The Police have rescued Mrs Olaide Busayo Adegoke John-Paul and her twin sons".

The media aide to the governorship aspirant, Femi Awogboro, also confirmed the incident.

According to him, "The Commissioner of Police just called to inform my boss that his sister, alongside her twin sons, has been rescued by the police".
