EBONYI State Police Command has rescued a kidnap victim, Obasi ThankGod, who was abducted by suspected kidnappers and tied inside a toilet in a hotel.

Obasi was abducted in Ezzangbo, Ohaukwu Local Government of the state, by the hoodlums who demanded N5,000,000 before he would be freed.

Police Public Relations Officer, SP Joshua Ukandu, who confirmed the incident, said operatives of the command traced the suspects to their hideout through intelligence-gathering and arrested three of them.

“On November 13, 2025, a kidnapping syndicate terrorising the Ezzangbo axis in Ohaukwu LG abducted one Obasi ThankGod, tied him up, and abandoned him inside a hotel toilet, while demanding a ransom of N5,000,000. Through diligent intelligence gathering, operatives of the command traced the hideout of the kidnappers, successfully rescued the victim, and arrested three suspects, namely: Uchenna Ogbozuru, Ebuka Ejiogu and Chizoba Idenyi Ogwa. The suspects are currently in custody and will be charged to court upon the conclusion of the investigation”, he said.
