Dispatch rider killed in Lagos crash

By Timothy Atoyebi and Faheem Lawal

A dispatch rider has been killed in a road accident at Motorways, inward Estate area of Alapere, Ketu, Lagos.

According to the Lagos State Traffic Management Authority (LASTMA), the crash involved an empty NIPCO tanker with registration number TTN-776ZQ, which was reportedly driven at high speed.

The tanker collided with the dispatch rider, leading to his death on the spot.

LASTMA officials arrived promptly at the scene and prevented further escalation after some aggrieved dispatch riders attacked the tanker driver.

The officials rescued the driver, who was later handed over to the Lagos State Ambulance Service (LASAMBUS) and taken to a hospital.
