

According to him, OPHK troops, in collaboration with the Civilian Joint Task Force, also neutralised three terrorists during a well-coordinated ambush between Ngazalgana and Lamusheri communities in Borno State. The ambush, carried out following credible intelligence, forced other insurgents to flee with gunshot injuries. Two AK-47 rifles were recovered from the scene.

Similarly, on Thursday, troops deployed in an ambush position at Tsokorok in Gwoza LGA engaged Boko Haram/ISWAP elements, forcing them to withdraw. One terrorist was neutralised, while two motorcycles were recovered. No casualties were recorded on the side of the troops.
