

other family members and swept under the carpet.

In a series of posts shared on

Woman cries for help after lady learning driving crushes 3 children

By Davies
Iheamnachor

PORT HARCOURT— A woman identified as Mrs. Amarachi Esonumu is seeking justice over the death of her three kids in Port Harcourt, Rivers State.

Amarachi is said to have lost her three children in Port Harcourt, Friday night, when a car rammed into her house and killed all her three children.

It was alleged that the driver of the car was a lady, who was believed to be learning how to drive by her lover, rammed into the woman's home.

It was learned that the car had skidded off the road into a residential building and that the kids aged, 10, 4 and 3 years old were crushed.

It was also gathered that the three children died on the spot and their remains were later taken to the mortuary.

It was gathered that the incident was reported to the Old GRA police State and that there has not been any known effort to prosecute the suspects.

However, the mother of the late children, Mrs. Esonumu, has taken to her social media handles to call on Nigerians for help.

Amarachi narrated that the incident happened at night, crying that she picked the remains of her children from the scene of the accident.

She said: "Port Harcourt please help me fight for justice. My three kids gone because of someone's carelessness.

"The wicked guy that was teaching his girlfriend how to drive in the night on May 15, 2026, about 8:30p.m., has taken a lot of souls early to their graves.

"I want justice. Old GRA police station is trying to hide this case please help me. My three children 10 years, 4 years and 3 years old are gone."

Meanwhile, the Rivers State Police Command said it is deeply saddened by the tragic incident which reportedly claimed the lives of three children from the same family.

A statement by the Public Relations Officer of the Command, Blessing Agabe, read: "The unfortunate development has generated widespread grief and concern within the state.

"The Commissioner of Police, Olugbenga Adepoju, extends his heartfelt condolences and profound sympathy to the bereaved family during this difficult and painful period. He prays that God grants the family the strength and fortitude to bear this irreparable loss.

"The Commissioner of Police wishes to assure the affected family and the general public that the Command has commenced a thorough investigation into the incident. He further reassures all concerned that every necessary step will be taken to ensure that justice is not only served, but manifestly seen to be served in accordance with the law."