

Students with explosives

Some students of the University of Abuja found in possession of explosive materials suspected to be bombs have been arrested in Abuja by men of the Nigeria Police Force.

The arrest which was made possible by a tip-off from the university campus came on the heels of a bloody clash involving two rival secret cult members which resulted in the death of one student and many others sustaining serious injuries.

A University source told BUSINESSDAY that the latest incident in the school might not be unrelated to an earlier inter-cult bloody clash in May, 2006, exclusively reported by BUSINESSDAY which involved some wards of prominent Nigerians and politicians.
