wife murders neighbour over water

A 30 year-old housewife Rabi Abdulmutallab is in police net in Katsina for allegedly murdering her neighbour over minor quarel, arising from fetching water from a tap.

The suspect was alleged to have hit her neighbour Leliya Idris with a pestle which allegedly led to her instant death at Rafin Dadi Quarters in Katsina metropolis.

An eyewitness, Alhaji Abba Ila, said that neighbours were attracted to the scene of the crime by the screaming of the two women, but could not gain entry into the house as the gate was locked from inside.

Consequently, he said a man was directed to scale the wall and open the gate where the deceased was found dead with a pestle near her body.

He said Lelia's body was removed by the police to Katsina General Hospital where she was confirmed dead.

Katsina State Police Public Relations Officer (PPRO) Adamu Yusuf, an Assistant Superintendent of Police (ASP), who confirmed the story said the suspect had been arrested while investigation into the case was on.

He said preliminary police's investigation showed that the incident occurred on Sunday at Rafin Dadi Quarters in Katsina metropolis at about 3.30pm when the 35 year old divorcee went to fetch a bucket water from the assailant's house.

The police spokesman said the remains of the deceased had been released to her relations for burial.
