

the constituency.

Ex-bank director dies in autocrash

ALPHONUS NWEZE, Awka

FORMER Regional director, Equatorial Trust Bank (ETB), Mr. Sebantine Ugwoke has died in a lone auto-crash along Nsukka - Adani - Omambala - Onitsha road.

Ugwoke who was returning back from Nsukka with Squia Jeep was, said to have died after the jeep somersaulted.

The ex-banker, Daily Champion learnt was said to have gone to Eden, in Nsukka Local Government Area, where he attended burial and was coming back with a friend who dropped on the way.

But eyewitness said that not more than three minutes he dropped his friend, the fatal accident occurred and he was said to have sustained high degree of injuries on his head due to the to the serious impact, hence his death at the spot.

Ugwoke who was to pick his wife at Onitsha was taken to a morgue at Adani with the help of police and sympathisers at the scene from where he was relocated to Bishop Shanahan Hospital, Nsukka.

Ironically, Ugwoke had survived what would have been a fatal accident two weeks earlier along the same road with his Honda Car which he confirmed to friends that the car was a "total wreck".

The Nsukka, Adani, Onitsha road which part of Anambra portion has been asphalted has record accidents, especially the Anambra portion yet to be asphalted, but many say Ugwoke's two accident within three weeks in the same road is one too many.