

13 feared dead, as fuel tanker rams into commercial bus in Ogbomoso

At least 13 people were feared dead yesterday when a fuel tanker rammed into a commercial bus at Odo Oba in Ogbomoso, Oyo State.

Although details of the crash were still hazy at the time of going to press, the tanker and bus reportedly caught fire immediately.

It was not clear where they were headed when the crash occurred.

The National Emergency Management Agency (NEMA) confirmed the crash, saying three persons escaped.

It did not, however, state whether they were in the tanker or the bus.
