

Bag with dismembered human parts dumped in Acme Road

A bag containing severed human parts was found in a gutter along Acme Road in Ogba Industrial layout on Monday. The black bag, which was dumped inside the gutter opposite UBA Bank, Acme Road branch, contained dismembered human parts, indicating that the victim might have been killed by ritualists.

Investigations revealed that the bag which was still dripping with blood was dragged to the spot where it was dumped as blood was all over the place.

Passers-by at the scene, who were shocked to see the bloated human parts, said the victim must have been killed by ritualists.

Investigations further revealed that the black bag could have been dumped at the spot late on Saturday night or early in the morning on Sunday as people in the area claimed that it was not there on Saturday.

Reacting to the incident, some passers-by at the industrial estate said the incident is a pointer that ritualists were still on the prowl in Lagos and might have relocated to the Ikeja-Ogba area.

Incidence of ritual killings is not rampant in the Area, while many believed that the victim might have been killed elsewhere in Lagos after which the severed parts were dumped in Ogba.