

Son kills father over neglect

A policeman, Sgt. Amos Kake was on Sunday allegedly murdered by his son (name withheld) in Mararaba village of Hong, Adamawa. The News Agency of Nigeria (NAN) learnt that Amos was allegedly clubbed to death while asleep at about 5. a.m. on Sunday by his son, who had accused him of neglecting the family. "The son has been accusing the father of neglecting the family; we are shocked that his complaint has degenerated to this level," an family friend, who pleaded anonymity said. The deceased, who was with the Mararaba Police Outpost, was recently deployed to Gombi Police Division where he assumed duty leaving behind his family in Mararaba. The police in Gombi confirmed the incident and the arrest of his suspected killer. The incident brought to two, such tragic death involving uniformed men in Mararaba in recent time. Three months ago, an Assistant Inspector of Immigration, Yohanna Mathew committed suicide by hanging in an uncompleted building in the village. (NAN)

Two kids found dead in car

From Bola Ojuola, Lagos

Two kids were found dead inside a parked blue Nissan Primera car at Abesan estate in Ipaja area of Lagos at the weekend. The children identified as Timilehin Adewunmi, aged four, and three year old Olamide Ajibola were said to have locked themselves inside the car and died of suffocation. The parents of the deceased children, Daily Trust gathered, had gone to attend a wedding ceremony, leaving the children in custody of one of their son believing that he would be able to take care of them. The children went to the car with registration number EA685EKY belonging to a woman in block 308, locked themselves in and died. One of the parents of the children, Mr Gbenga Adewunmi narrating the incident, said they came back home to discover that the two kids were missing and had organized a search party for them when the owner of the car came out of her flat to discover the dead bodies of the two kids. She raised an alarm which attracted everyone to the scene. The case was reported at Ipaja police station and Mrs Abiandu was arrested as prime suspect. Adewunmi who described the woman as a good woman said it was an accident.
