A vehicle with registration number, BS 137 RBC, lost control and hit a commercial bus from behind at the popular Berger Junction in Abuja yesterday, killing a middle-aged woman in the process.

The deceased was alighting from the commercial bus which she boarded from Kubwa when the accident occurred. She was said to be heading for

An eyewitness told our reporter: "Before I could say a word I just saw this Mazda running into the bus from behind. Meanwhile, that innocent lady was just dropping off the bus and that was how the Mazda rammed into her."

The eyewitness further said that the bus conductor was injured in the process and rushed to the hospital by some officers of the Federal Road Safety Commission (FRSC), for treatment.

The condition of the Mazda driver was reported to be critical as the eyewitness and some Road Safety officials claimed that his legs were seriously fractured. "The man had to be taken out of the damaged vehicle forcefully; people had to join hands to open the car door and get him out," the witnesses explained.
