One burnt to death in Abaji auto crash

Monday, 10 January 2011 00:00

Abubakar Sadiq Isah

ONE person was on Thursday morning burnt to death, while two others sustained various degrees of burns in a multiple accident that occurred opposite Total Filling Station at Abaji town, along Abuja-Lokoja road.

A witness said the victim died few hours after he was rescued by Federal Road Safety Commission (FRSC) officials and brought to Abaji General Hospital.

He said the accident which occurred at 4 am, involved three Peugeot J5 buses with registration numbers XF 339 KTN, XB 169 KTA and 306 GRY, respectively as well as a Man Diesel truck.

"The J5 buses were all loaded with tomatoes and in a convoy when the one in the front lost control while on speed and crashed into the back of the truck, burst into flame," the witness said.

Abaji FRSC unit Commander, Mr. Joseph Onyemauche Ezeh, said one of the victims died at the hospital after he was rescued alive from the crash scene.

He said the other two victims who sustained various degrees of burns were rushed to Abaji General Hospital.

At Abaji General Hospital, a nurse disclosed that the victim died as a result of serious burns all over his body, adding that the corpse is at the University of Abuja Teaching Hospital's mortuary at Gwagwalada.
