truck with registration number XT 892 SST and a Toyota Hiace buswithregistration numberXX 158 JJJ.

He said the tyre of the truck that was moving towards Lokoja pulled out, causing it to hit the Toyota bus that was coming from the opposite direction on high speed. He further stated that those who were injured were being assisted by some motorists before the arrival of the rescue team from the Federal Road Safety Commission (FRSC).

The Kogi State Sector Commander of the FRSC, who confirmed the accident, said 15 passengers were involved in the accident and that two persons died while 13 others sustained injuries.

According to him, the injured persons were taken to the Federal Medical Centre and Specialist Hospital in Lokoja. He advised motorists to always observe speed limit while on the road, especially during the ember months.
