

Jos blast: Man killed in error is member – COCIN

Written by Andrew Agbese, Jos
Friday, 02 March 2012 05:00

The Church of Christ in Nigeria, COCIN has admitted that the late Joseph Adam Ashaba, the man killed in error as the suspected 'second suicide bomber' is a member of the church.

Pastor Aaron G Ndirmbita, who is in charge of COCIN headquarters church Jos, said this yesterday.

He said the late Ashaba was a full member of the congregation and a committed member of the church for more than 12 years.

He said the late Ashaba was killed in error and was never a terrorist and would be buried along with others who died in the attack today. The three others to be buried with Ashaba he said include; late Miss Grace Mambutda, a baby and one other woman whose identity has not been confirmed.