The Bauchi State Police Command at the weekend said suspected ritualists killed a man and removed his son's eyes in Toro Local Government Area of the state.

The state Police Public Relations Officer, Haruna Mohammed, while addressing newsmen, said: "On October 18, 2014, ten suspected ritualists wielding dangerous weapons stormed the house of one Yakubu Ubandoma, located about 10 kilometres away from Rimin Zayam Village in Toro LGA, stabbed him on the neck and cut off his hands. The suspects also removed two eyes of his son called Ishaya Yakubu, who later died in the hospital. One other person in the house, Yakubu Alhamdu, sustained machete cut in the head."

Mohammed said police detectives visited the scene of the crime and rushed the victims to the Toro General Hospital.

He said efforts are being made to apprehend the fleeing suspects and appealed to members of the public with useful information to visit the nearest police station.
