

Gunmen kill 6 in Benue

Category: News Published on Tuesday, 15 April 2014 05:00 Written by Hope Abah, Makurdi
Hits: 1009

Six men were yesterday killed by gunmen in Ogbagaji, headquarters of Agatu LGA in Benue State. Daily Trust gathered that they had gone to the river to excavate sand for building with a tipper when they suddenly came under attack from the gunmen suspected to be Fulani mercenaries.

The legislator representing the area at the state House of Assembly, Sule Audu, said gunmen were still killing his people despite the ongoing peace processes initiated by the federal government to end violence in the state. A peace pact was signed two weeks ago but there are still reported killings and attacks on people of Logo and Agatu. Police said the separate incidents in Logo at the weekend were robberies while the Agatu attack was not brought to their notice. Spokesman of the command, Daniel Ezeala, said he was yet to be briefed on yesterday's killing.

0 Comments Daily Trust

Login ▾

Sort by Newest ▾

Share  Favorite ★

Start the discussion...

Be the first to comment.

 Subscribe

 Add Disqus to your site

 Privacy

back to top

Facebook

Disqus

Add a comment...

☒ Also post on Facebook

Posting as Vitus Ukoji (Not you?)

Comment

Facebook social plugin

< Prev

Next >

Up to -84% on Men's Jeans

 kaymu.com.ng/Men's_Jeans

Browse our Selection of Men's Jeans From ₦1,300, check it now !

ITIL 2011 Courses - Dubai

Cars from USA

\$0.01 Web Hosting

LATEST NEWS

Ebola still a serious challenge in W/Africa – ECOWAS

RATTAWU threatens 3-day warning strike from tomorrow

Minister decorates Fire Service boss tomorrow

Women told not to consider gender a disadvantage

Mark urges military to keep Nigeria together