

PDP supporter killed in Kogi

From Usman A. Bello, Lokoja

A 32-year-old supporter of the Peoples Democratic Party (PDP), Alhaji Megudi, was killed on Saturday at Iyale in Dekina Local Government Area of Kogi State.

Iyale is the home town of the PDP House of Representatives candidate for Dekina/Bassa federal constituency, Gowon Haruna.

It was gathered that the PDP supporter was killed by a rival group suspected to be loyal to the opposition party, while struggling to take possession of electoral materials.

The youths were said to have stormed the polling unit in the community attempting to snatch election materials when another group intercepted them. Daily Trust learnt that the struggle led to a fight and that the PDP supporter died in the process.

Efforts to get confirmation from the state Police Public Relations Officer, Sola Collins, was unsuccessful as his mobile phone lines were switched off.
