

Bomb rips Maiduguri market

From Ibrahim Sawab,
Maiduguri

An Improvised Explosion Device (IED) planted in a crowded cattle market in Maiduguri exploded on Saturday evening, killing and injuring scores of people, witnesses said.

"The blast occurred when it was raining. I saw people fleeing the cattle market area, some wailing. But I cannot give details," a vigilant member told

Daily Trust yesterday.

Many were killed on June 2 by a suicide bomber who disguised as a herbalist at the Maiduguri abattoir near the cattle market.
