A middle-aged truck driver escaped lynching by some angry youth after he allegedly crushed a cyclist to death at Sheda, along the Abuja-Lokoja Expressway.

An eyewitness, Saidu Mohammed, said the incident happened Saturday, around 2:13 pm, when the driver of an unmarked trailer ran over the cyclist.

He said the driver zoomed off immediately after knocking the cyclist, adding: "The driver sped off but some youth mobilised themselves and pursued him to Kwaita village, where he was flagged down."

He said the youth dragged him out of the truck and started beating him until some elders intervened and rescued the driver.

City News learnt that the cyclist's relatives have since collected his remains while the injured person was taken to Kwali General Hospital by sympathisers.

When contacted, the Kwali Divisional Police Officer (DPO) Chief Superintendent of Police, Yakubu Mohammed, confirmed the incident, saying the driver would be charged to court.

In another incident, one person was also killed, while another sustained injuries in a motor accident, which occurred near Piri village, on the same expressway.

An eyewitness said the accident happened around 5:23p.m. after the driver of a commuter Toyota Hiace bus, with registration number XC 374 GNN, crashed into a ditch.

He said men of the Federal Road Safety Corps (FRSC) at Yangoji took the corpse to Kwali General Hospital's morgue and the injured to same hospital.

When contacted, the Yangoji unit commander of the FRSC, Mr. Jeremiah M. Fada, confirmed the incident.
