Members of Irigwe community of Bassa local government area of Plateau state yesterday tasked the police and the state government to apprehend the gunmen responsible for the killing of three youths from Bonwo village of their community last year.

Daily Trust gathered that the incident occurred in November last year but the community in a press statement yesterday said it knew the culprits and that they were allowed to walk freely without being arrested.

The statement which was signed by the President and Secretary of the community association, Chinge Dodo and John Gana said the victims were waylaid by their assailants but that two others had managed to escape the attack.

“The statement stressed that as a peace loving community, the matter was immediately reported to the Divisional Police Headquarters in Bassa and Jos South local government without a recourse to a reprisal by the Irigwe people and who without delay mobilized to the scene and evacuated the dead bodies. But the culprits to our dismay are still walking free even as the Police continue to give lame excuses," the statement noted.

Attempts to get the Police Public Relations Officer Emmanuel Abu was unsuccessful as his number was unreachable.
