A four-year-old boy lost his life to a rampaging flood at Akpajo Eleme in Eleme Local Government Area of Rivers State yesterday.

Eye witnesses said the incident occurred when a big fence of a popular Anglican church in the area collapsed on the building where the deceased resided following a torrential rain which lasted several hours.

The witness said, "The child just came back from school and was taking a nap when the incident occurred. The entire Church was flooded and the rampaging flood pulled down the Church fence which collapsed on the building where the child was sleeping. The little boy died instantly."
