

65-yr-old woman found dead in Ilorin well

From Romoke W. Ahmad, Ilorin

A 65-year-old woman, identified as Iya Majeobaje, who was in charge of ensuring sanitary condition of a mosque in Ilorin, Kwara state has been found dead inside a well at the mosque premises.

It was gathered that the incident happened at Ansarul Deen Mosque, Osere, Sawmill area in Ilorin West Local Government Area of the state at the weekend.

It was learnt that the woman fell into the well on Friday at about 5:00 pm while fetching water to clean the mosque but was brought out dead on Saturday afternoon.

Residents in the area said that there was nobody within the vicinity of the mosque to rescue her when she fell inside the well.

Some of the residents of the area, who discovered the dead woman immediately, alerted the state fire service in Ilorin.

The Director of the State Fire Service, Mr. Tiamiyu Raji, who confirmed the incident, said personnel from the Fire Service removed the woman from the well dead, on Saturday afternoon.

He said that the corpse of the woman was taken to the B Division of Police State Command, Surulere in Ilorin metropolis.

However, the Kwara state police command was yet to confirm the incident.

Gunmen kill graduate in Kaduna