2 rival cult members arrested for murder in Lagos

From Eugene Agha, Lagos

Two rival cult groups' members have been arrested for their alleged involvement in murder cases in Ajah and Epe areas of Lagos.

The suspects, identified as Shola Faratimi, 23, and Bolaji Elewuro, 20, were arrested during a violent clash that broke out at Ibeju Lekki area of Lagos.

One Adisa Gbalaya was allegedly shot dead during the week-long fracas which erupted between Eiye and Aiye groups in the area.

Parading the suspects, the Lagos State Commissioner of Police, Fatai Owoseni, said detectives attached to the Area J Police Command, Elemoro, Ibeju Lekki, arrested the two suspected cultists.

He said the suspects were part of the group terrorising Ikota, Ajah and Lekki communities.

In their statements, the suspects claimed that they were tricked into becoming cult members, he said.
