The accused had however pleaded not guilty to the charge.

The prosecutor, Cpl. Gbenga Ayeni, told the court that the deceased, who went to graze his herd on Sept. 23, was reported missing on Sept. 25.

He said further that the body of the deceased person was later recovered from the bush without his head.

Ayeni explained that the accused person had earlier told the parents of the deceased that Umar had taken the animals to graze and they should not look for him.

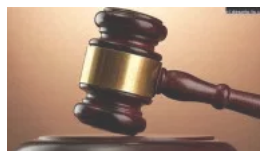

The prosecutor, however, said that during investigation police found out that the accused person killed the deceased because of a rift between them. (NAN)
