Twelve people yesterday died in an accident at the Siun axis of the Abeokuta-Sagamu Road in Ogun State.

The road crash, which involved a Toyota space bus marked LSR 334 FF and a black Kia Cerato registration number KJA 806 BT, occurred at about 1pm.

It was gathered that the Kia Cerato car's tyre burst and the driver lost control of the wheels, making the car veer off its lane.

In the process, the car climbed the road median and raced to the opposite direction before it collided with the Toyota space bus, killing all occupants of both vehicles.

The Federal Road Safety Corps' Education Officer in the state, Florence Okpe, in a statement, said all 12 passengers – five male adults, six female adults and one child in the two vehicles—died in the crash.

She blamed the crash on “tyre burst and speeding.”

Okpe said the victims' bodies had been taken to the Olabisi Onabanjo University Teaching Hospital (OOUTH) mortuary, Sagamu.
