

FUTO graduate drowns in swimming pool

By Jude Aguguo Owuamanam, Owerri | Published Date Jun 3, 2019 4:57 AM

A Microbiology graduate of the Federal University of Technology, Owerri (FUTO), Stephen Igwilo, has died in a host community of the university in Imo State.

According to reports from Instablogja, Igwilo drowned Saturday around 6pm in a swimming pool at a hotel located at Eziobodo, Owerri, during an outing with two of his friends.

ADVERTISEMENT

The spokesperson of the institution, Mrs. Uche Bright-Nwaelue, confirmed the incident yesterday, saying Igwilo was among the last graduating students of the institution.

The Police Public Relations Officer, Orlando Ikeokwu, also confirmed the incident.

ADVERTISEMENT

He said the victim was rushed to the Federal Medical Centre, Owerri, by the hotel management and later died there.