

Policeman Killed As Gunmen Abduct Chinese Expatriate In Ekiti

A police officer has been reportedly killed as gunmen, on Friday, abducted a Chinese expatriate in Ekiti State ...

By Abiodun Alade

Fri Nov 27 2020

A police officer has been reportedly killed as gunmen, on Friday, abducted a Chinese expatriate in Ekiti State.

The incident, according to the Police Public Relations Officer , Ekiti Command, ASP Sunday Abutu, occurred around 4.30pm along new Ado-Iyin road.

The victim was one of the Engineers handling the dualisation of Ado-Iyin road awarded to a Chinese Company by Governor Kayode Fayemi.

- We're ready for anybody planning protests – Police
- Police kill 2 robbers in shootout, arrest 8

Abutu said one other person was shot at the scene of the incident, who has not been confirmed dead.

He said: "it is confirmed that a kidnapping incident occurred today at about 4:30pm along new iyin road .

"During the incident, one civilian, an expatriate was kidnapped, one shot, while one policeman was shot dead.

"Our operatives are already combing the bush for possible apprehension of the perpetrators".

The police spokesman added that the Ekiti State Commissioner of Police, Mr Babatunde Mobayo, enjoined everyone to be calm and avoid any form of apprehension as the Command will do everything possible to rescue the victim and arrest the culprits.

chinese expatriate

Ekiti

Police

