

In Lere LGA, Aruwan stated that security agencies reported that bandits from a neighbouring state who specialised in stealing livestock were also killed through mob action, adding that they were chased and overpowered at Domawa village where three of them met their end in the hands of a mob.