

Man Hacks In-Law To Death For Hitting His Mother

By Usman A. Bello

Fri Jun 25 2021

Operatives of the Edo State Command have arrested a 55-year-old man, Emmanuel Amaize, over alleged killing of his 65-year-old in-law, Bayo Iremoje.

It was gathered that the incident happened on Friday at Ate community, near Igarra, Akoko Edo LGA of the state.

- Osinbajo, SMEDAN to reward shining MSMEs June 27
- Community pharmacists, NAFDAC destroy N400m expired drugs

According to a source, the deceased allegedly slapped the suspect's mother, Halimat Amaize, aged 75, during a brawl.

He said during the brawl, neighbours in the compound allegedly waded into the matter before the woman informed her son upon his return at night.

The suspect, it was learnt, confronted the deceased and a fight ensued between them and in the process, the suspect hit the deceased on his head and other parts of his body severally with a machete.

The deceased was said to have been rushed to the hospital but was confirmed dead by the doctor.

The suspect who was transferred to the state command headquarters was said to have confessed to the crime, saying the deceased brought out the cutlass to attack him but that he acted in self-defense.

When contacted, the Edo State Police spokesman, SP Kontongs Bello, confirmed the incident.

He said the police have already visited the scene and recovered the exhibit.

According to him, the suspect would be charged to court for murder as soon as investigation is completed.

Edo mother Murder

Recommended for you

774,000 jobs: FG
directs banks to p... dailytrust.com

2023: APC in fresh
dilemma over zon...
dailytrust.com

Group releases names of 1,499 kil...
dailytrust.com

Forget about grazing routes re...
dailytrust.com

Around The Web

