

Son kills dad over farmland in Gombe

By Dalhatu Liman

A 32-year-old man killed his father on Saturday at Zange village in Dukku Local government Area of Gombe State over a farmland.

A source said the son, Haruna Buba, committed the murder following a disagreement he had with his elder brother, while accusing their father of allocating a bigger farmland to the elder brother.

The father, Habu Kuppe, a septuagenarian, was said to have come to intercede in the quarrel between the siblings when Haruna cut him on the head and back with a machete; killing him instantly.

City News learnt that after killing his father, Haruna left for a viewing centre in the village, from where he was arrested by the police.

When contacted, the police spokesman in the state, Mallum Buba, confirmed the incident, saying the suspect would be charged to court after investigation.

...Another stabs cousin to death in Rivers

From Victor Edozie,
Port Harcourt

committing the crime.

The Chairman of the Community Development Committee (CDC) of Duburo, Vincent Gbosi, confirmed the incident to reporters, saying the matter had been reported to the Bori police divisional.

A man on Sunday night stabbed his cousin identified as Kopapa Neete to death over a family issue at Duburo community in Khana Local Government Area of Rivers State.

Community sources informed our reporter that the suspect fled the community after

The state's police spokesman, Nnmadi Omoni, did not pick a call from our reporter.