

Session for retired three judges in Kaduna yesterday

Three youths found dead on farmland in Ebonyi

From Nabob Ogbonna, Abakaliki

Residents of Amaeze in Ishiagu community, Ivo Local Government Area of Ebonyi State were on Monday thrown into a state of fear following the death of three people in the area.

Mr Monday Okorie, Chairman of Amaeze Community Development Union, confirmed the incident on Monday to newsmen in Abakiliki.

Okorie said women who went to the farm and discovered the bodies of the deceased broke the news about the gruesome murder of the indigenes.

He further said that information about the incident is still sketchy, noting that the matter had been reported to the police for investigation.

He added that their bodies were discovered at 'Uzohu' a boundary between Ishiagu and Lokpa community in Abia State.

Okorie said that two of the deceased were from Amaeze while the third victim was an indigene of Ihietutu community resident in Amaeze.

Efforts to speak with Mrs Loveth Odah, Police Public Relations Officer, Ebonyi State Police Command, were not successful.

But a top police officer serving at the Ivo Division of the Nigeria Police, who doesn't want his name on print, confirmed the incident.
