People in the three cars, those waiting to cross the expressway, and those waiting to board vehicles to their destinations were victims.

The witness said he counted eight people on the ground, while three died on the spot

He said, “I counted eight people on the ground when I came around but am sure that about two or three were dead on the spot immediately I got here.

“People were just picking people’s legs and parts of bodies.” I have never seen such. From what I heard, those guys were high; the guys in that Toyota Corolla were high.”
