

I bought two legs for N20,000, says Ogun 'ritualist'

From Peter Moses, Abeokuta

Ifasoji Ayangbesan, a 35-year-old suspected ritualist, who was arrested for allegedly killing and dismembering one Oyindamola Adeyemi, on Wednesday explained how he bought two human legs at the rate of N20, 000.

Ayangbesan, who was accused of bribing policemen with N1 million to evade arrest, was paraded alongside other 12 suspects at the state Police Command Headquarters, Eleweran, Abeokuta.

He, however, denied taking part in the killing of the victim who was reportedly murdered on January 28, 2023, by him and other members of a notorious ritualist syndicate.

Speaking during the parade, Ayangbesan, who is a resident of the Iloti axis of the Ijebu-Ode Local Government Area of Ogun State claimed that he was a herbalist and not a ritualist.

He said he only obtained the legs from his friend Lukman, who he claimed to have exhumed the body part from a cemetery.

Other suspects paraded included five suspected cultists, eight armed robbers, and one serial killer from Abeokuta and its environs.

While parading the suspects, the Commissioner of Police in the state, Olanrewaju Oladimeji, said the arrest was a result of a joint strategic effort to deal with criminal elements in the state after he was briefed about the crime situation in the state.

THE LAGOS STATE POLICE COMMISSIONER, OLANREWAJU OLADIMEJI, PARADING THE SUSPECTS IN ABEOKUTA.