How man, pregnant wife were found dead in Abuja

By Adam Umar

A man, Hussaini Lawal, and his pregnant wife, were penultimate Saturday found dead on their bed inside their apartment at Wuse Zone 4 in Abuja.

An elder brother of the late Lawal, Auwal, told City & Crime that his brother, who was a Bureau de Change (BDC) operative, was last seen on Thursday evening in his office located a walk's distance from his house where he lived with other tenants.

He further said, "They lived on the second floor of a three-storey apartment at Agric Quarters. His vehicle was in the compound. Their apartment was locked from within. So, after several calls to their mobile phones were not answered, I suggested, while on my way coming from Kano, that the door be forced open on Saturday."

City & Crime further learnt that the matter was reported at the Wuse Zone 3 Police Division and that following a preliminary investigation, their remains were taken to the Wuse General Hospital and later buried on the same day.

Meanwhile, it was learnt that two empty take-away food containers and empty soft drinks cans were among the exhibits taken by detectives from their room, including their mobile phones.
