

Ogun: Suspects in failed N200m ritual killings nabbed

...They confessed killing 10 women – CP

■ The Ogun suspects

From Peter Moses, Abeokuta

The police in Ogun State on Thursday paraded two additional suspects, Adebayo Olamide Azeez (35) and Mariam Awuraji (38), in connection with the alleged failed N200 million ritual killing of a 35-year-old woman, Sulaimon Adijat.

City & Crime reports that on February 15, the police arrested and paraded two priests of the Cherubim and Seraphim Church, Prophet Peter Oluwalolese and Prophet Jamiu Yusuf, for allegedly killing Adijat for money ritual.

Two herbalists, Moses Abidemi and Oluwo Samuel Monday, as well as Akinwunmi Ifatosin, Sheriff Agbai and Osojieahen Alioneitouria, were also paraded in connection with the crime.

The Commissioner of Police, Abiodun Alamutu, on Thursday, gave an update on the investigation and paraded the two as principal suspects.

Alamutu said the suspects had confessed to having been responsible for about 10 missing persons in the state.