

Bandits reportedly killed one person and abducted four others in Gumburawa village, in Wamakko LGA of Sokoto State.

Gumburawa, situated near Usmanu Danfodio University on the outskirts of Sokoto city, was attacked in the wee hours of Monday.

A resident, Malam Sa'idu Muhammad Gumburawa, who had previously been kidnapped by bandits, told Daily Trust that the attackers targeted some houses during their 30-minute raid.

“They killed one person and kidnapped four others. They arrived around midnight and left after about 30 minutes,” he said.

When contacted, the Sokoto State Police Command's Public Relations Officer, SP Ahmed Rufa'i, said he would provide further details after confirming the incident with the Divisional Police Office in the area.
