A 19-year-old woman, Fatimo Agboke, has been arrested over the alleged murder of her neighbour's son in the Isheri-Oshun area of Lagos State.

The suspect was arrested for allegedly stabbing to death with a broken bottle one Azeez (20) following a minor argument on Monday.

Recounting how the young man was killed, a neighbour, who did not want to be named, alleged that the argument degenerated into a fight during which the suspect picked a bottle, smashed it on the ground and stabbed the victim on the neck.

Lagos State police spokesman, Benjamin Hundeyin, confirmed the incident.
