Soldiers allegedly stab police inspector to death in Rivers

From Bassey Willie, Port Harcourt

Some unidentified soldiers on Monday allegedly stabbed a yet-to-be-identified police inspector to death in Amaku Mba Community, Etche Local Government Area of Rivers State.

Daily Trust gathered that a misunderstanding between a team of soldiers and policemen during a burial ceremony in the area led to the killing of the police officer. Residents said that while a police van was passing along the Amaku Mba federal highway, officers spotted men dressed in army camouflage and stopped to inquire about their identities.

This reportedly escalated into a conflict between the two security agencies, resulting in the fatal stabbing of the police personnel.

The Community Development Committee (CDC) Chairman, Kingsley Nwanyanwu, confirmed the incident in a social media post and said it had sparked tension in the area.

He said policemen are now patrolling the community and allegedly arresting innocent residents.

He called on the police authorities to ensure a thorough investigation to bring the culprits to justice, rather than disrupt the peace of the community.

When contacted, the Police Public Relations Officer in Rivers State, SP Grace Iringe-Koko, confirmed the incident but declined to disclose the identity of the slain inspector.

She, however, urged the reporter to conduct further investigation to identify the deceased officer.
