Bauchi State, Friday said 16 people were killed in Kurum village of Bogoro Local Government Area attack by gunmen on Wednesday. The unidentified village in Bauchi state, one of the worst hit states by riots last month.

"There was an attack on Kurum village by unknown reaching me 16 people have been killed and 21 Amama Abakasanga, Bauchi state police commissioner from Bauchi.

Mr John Abakasanga also told the News Agency that the motive behind the attack was not known. He, however, said the attack followed one of months.

The area which came under attack is in Borogo local the border with violence-wracked Plateau state, a flashpoint of sectarian unrest.

Police have deployed in the area to prevent escalation notorious for clashes pitting predominantly Christian nomads.

The police boss said gunmen had adopted a hit-and-run area, adding that the police were investigating the Also speaking to NAN, Mr Bukata Zhadi, the Secretary Traditional Rulers in Bogoro and Tafawa Balewa persons receiving treatment in the hospital died, dead to 19.

Zhadi said that many other persons were in critical condition. The secretary hinged the recurrent crisis on the failure to tackle the problem.

NAN reports that since a crisis erupted in Tafawa Balewa Jan. 27, there had been several attacks in the area and several houses destroyed.

Meanwhile, the state government has announced individuals and groups who incite youths and fuel violence.

Bauchi state is predominantly Muslim but neighboring Balewa districts are inhabited by mainly Christian Fulani nomads are in the minority there but ethnic animosity between the two groups have remained high. In January a billiard dispute between a Christian and Tafawa Balewa led to bloody clashes that left over destruction of 50 houses and a mosque.

Fulani residents fled the area and resorted to attacking villages in reprisals which drew revenge attacks by Fulani villages and settlements.

Police said no arrests had been made yet over the attack. "We are yet to identify the attackers but the problem is that they are not willing to live in peace," Abakasanga
