Gunmen kill ex-police chief

From Njadvare Musa, Maiduguri

TWO suspected gunmen on Tuesday at about 8 p.m. killed a retired Deputy Superintendent of Police (DSP) (name withheld) at his Goidam Ngari ward residence in Maiduguri, the Borno State capital.

Confirming the killing yesterday, Borno Police Commissioner, Simeon Midenda said, "The retired police officer was relaxing in front of his house when two suspected gunmen in flowing gowns pulled out a Kalashnikov rifle and fired severally into the officer's chest and head, before he gave up the ghost at about 9 p.m."
