40 die in Aba highway crash

From Iyabo Lawal, Ibadan

A GALE of deep wailing tore the air at Bola Ige and Alesinloye Markets in Ibadan, Oyo State yesterday following reported deaths of 40 people, including 22 traders from the two markets, in an auto crash along Aba-Onitsha highway.

One of the survivors, Moses Olufayo, who is currently recuperating in a private hospital said the traders had gone to the textile market at Aba, Abia State and were returning when the accident occurred.

While 22 of the traders died on the spot, survivors were rushed to St. Dominic Catholic Hospital, Ogungbade, Ibadan where medics are battling to save their lives .

Olufayo, who sustained cervical fracture, said the bus conveying the traders had a head-on collision with an Aba-bound bus.

Another survivor identified as Ade said the auto accident could have been averted if the two drivers had exercised some degree of patience.

Meanwhile, the wife of the senator representing Oyo Central Senatorial District, Ayode Adeseun Tola has donated N.5 million to the hospital for a surgical operation for Olufayo, who needs the operation to avoid a complete paralysis.

Medical Director of the Catholic hospital, Dr. Taiwo Obisesan, assured that the hospital would do all within its power to ensure that the victim does not become paralysed.
