

who became blinded after receiving treatment from the clinic. According to him, the operator of the clinic gave the patient impossible conditions in order to absolve himself reopen the hospital or the clinic after it had been sealed is still a shock to me. Quickly I came over here, liaised with the ministry because he was elusive as he has branches in Port Harcourt, Calabar and Eket, apart from tioner in Ilorin.

The alleged fake medical doctor's name was given as Oroware Omololu Adebayo. He hails from Owo, Ondo state. Parading the suspect at the state com-

Offa Local Council of Kwara state." "My advice for people is to be contented with what they have. I am regretting my action. I did not record any loss of lives," he said.

Man knocked down by hit-and-run driver on Oshodi -Apapa Expressway

By Abdulwaheed Usamah and Tolulope Okunlola

It was a gory sight yesterday at Five Star Bus Stop on Oshodi-Apapa Expressway, Lagos as the body of an unidentified young man, hit by a car, lay unattended to for several hours on the service lane.

It would take only the strong-willed to cast a second glance at the corpse of the man knocked down in the early hours of the day, long before early callers began arriving the spot to get to Aswani Market, which opens every Tuesday.

By the time onlookers began milling round the body, it was already too late for any rescue effort, as the young man laid stone dead and stiff without any form of identity on him.

Some traders at Ladipo automobile market, however, identified the man as a hustler and cart pusher, who conveyed vehicle parts for buyers from the market.

An eyewitness, who narrated to The Guardian how the man met his death, said he crossed the expressway from the other side instead of using the pedestrian bridge at about 5.30a.m. and had successfully cross the road before strolling past the service lane unaware that an oncoming vehicle, which rammed into him.

"I don't think he would have survived the incident even if help had come his way when it happened because he sustained a severe head injury and the vehicle dragged him on the ground for several metres."

Officials of the Lagos State Emergency Management Agency (LASEMA) later removed the body from the spot at 3.00p.m.

The man...

Man appeals for N3m assistance to undergo plastic surgery