

Fresh violence averted in Umuchigbo

From Lawrence Njoku (Enugu)

THERE were reports yesterday afternoon of an attack on Umuchigbo community, in Enugu East council by suspected herdsmen. The Guardian gathered that the attack was in retaliation to the killing of a Fulani person, stabbed to death last week by Umuchigbo youths.

There were unconfirmed reports of injuries, as it was further gathered that the Fulanis had mobilised to attack schools in the area.

Unconfirmed reports said that schools were shut down, as students were asked to go home.
