

News | Nigeria | Metro

Man arrested over lover's death after several rounds of sex

By Lawrence Njoku, Enugu | 09 June 2017 | 4:05 am

A middle-aged man, Joel Ugwu, has been arrested by the police in Enugu State, over the death of his lover, Mrs. Ifenyinwa Udeh, at a hotel room in the state.

Udeh, a mother of two, was said to have checked into the hotel room at Trans Ekulu within the state capital last week and became unconscious after several rounds of sex that led to her being rushed to the hospital where she was confirmed dead.

According to the Enugu State Police Public Relations Officer, Ebere Amaraizu, the deceased who resided at Ugboezeji in Abakpa Nike, Enugu and her lover, Joel had actually spent some time together at the hotel room before the unfortunate incident that led to her being rushed to the hospital around 11:15p.m.

He said: "They had allegedly checked into one hotel located around Nowas Junction of Trans Ekulu and later in the day, she was confirmed dead by a doctor at St Leo's hospital after she allegedly fell ill around 11:15p.m."

 TheGuardian

News

Home Nigeria World Politics Sport Opinion Business Technology Arts Guardian Life Guardian TV

Amaraizu said the police recovered from the hotel room some dangerous tablets/capsules and other materials, which will aid operatives in their investigations, adding that the deceased had been deposited at the morgue of the Parklane Specialist Hospital for further examination.

Meanwhile, a man identified as Afeamefuna, 33, had allegedly stabbed to death his younger brother, Chukwuebuka, 31, following a quarrel that erupted between them.

The incident was said to have taken place on Tuesday around 6:30p.m. at Agungwu Ugwuoba Oji River local council of Enugu State.

