Man electrocuted while vandalising EEDC substation

From Lawrence Njoku, Enugu

LUCK yesterday ran out on an unidentified vandal as he was electrocuted while attempting to vandalize Onuseleogu 100KVA Substation, property of Enugu Electricity Distribution company (EEDC), located at Emene Industrial Layout.

It was gathered that the vandal arrived at the substation when there was no supply and in the process of loosening the HV fuse, supply was restored and he was electrocuted. Items recovered from the victim were spanner, torchlight and a plyer. His body was evacuated to University of Nigeria Teaching Hospital (UNTH), Ituku Ozalla morgue by the police from Emene Division.

The EEDC, in a statement by the Communications Manager, Emeka Eze, said two suspects, identified as Amaechi Akpu and Chigbo Ejebu, were apprehended by youths of Onuore Agba community, Ebonyi State, for vandalizing a 300KVA Substation, property of the firm located in the community.

He said members of Abor vigilance group also arrested a vandal identified as Emmanuel Izunna for vandalising 500KVA Igwe

Umuenyiora 2 Substation located in Ogbunike, Anambra State.

Also, Chinonso Nwankwo, who was arrested for vandalising Solid Base Substation located in Udoeye by Mba Nwangwu Street, Trans Ekulu, Enugu, was arraigned by the police at Chief Magistrate Court 8, presided over by Mrs. C.E. Ugwu. He was remanded at Enugu Prison.
