Gunmen kill 400 level student of Kogi varsity

By Editor

11 December 2019 |
3:17 am

Agba Jalingo accuses judge of bias, asks CJ to reassign case

7 hours ago

Adewolu urges continued synergy between UNIBEN, UBTH

7 hours ago

Ndokwa women seek politicians' assistance on poverty alleviation

7 hours ago

A 400 level student of the Kogi State University, Anyigba has been killed by gunmen.

According to a source from the school, the student was in an exam hall when unknown gunmen invaded and shot him.

It was gathered that he was shot at the faculty of Management Sciences, Banking, and Finance Department.

Efforts to confirm the incident from the police met a brick wall as the Kogi State Command Police Public Relations Officer (PPRO); William Aya said they are yet to be briefed on the incident.

Similarly, the authorities of the university could not be reached to confirm the incident as at the time of filing this report.

In this article:

gunmen   Kogi varsity   student

Receive News Alerts on Whatsapp: +2348136370421

No comments yet